VEGETINE

FOR

Chills, Shakes, FEVER AND AGUE.

TARBORO, N. C., 1873.

DR. H. R. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir—I feel very grateful for what your valuable medicine, Vegetine, has done in my family. I wish to express my thanks by informing you of the wonderful cure of my son; also, to let you know that Vegetine is the best medicine I ever saw for Chills, Shakes, Fever and Ague. My son was sick with measles in 1873, which left him with hip-joint disease. My son suffered a great deal of pain, all of the time; the pain was so great he did nothing but cry. The doctors did not help him a particle, he could not lift his foot from the floor, he could not move without crutches. I read your advertisement in the Louisville Courier-Journal, that Vegetine was a great Blood Purifier and Blood Food. I tried one bottle, which was a great benefit. He kept on with the medicine, gradually gaining. He has taken eighteen bottles in all, and he is completely restored to health, walks without crutches or cane. He is twenty years of age. I have a younger son fifteen years of age, who is subject to Chills. Whenever he feels one coming on, he comes in, takes a dose of Vegetine and that is the last of the Chill. Vegetine leaves no bad effect upon the system like most of the medicines recommended for Chills. I cheerfully recommend Vegetine for such complaints. I think it is the greatest medicine in the world.

Respectfully, MRS. J. W. LLOYD.

VEGETINE.—When the blood becomes lifeless and stagnant, either from change of weather or of climate, want of exercise, irregular diet, or from any other cause, the Vegetine will renew the blood, carry off the putrid humors, cleanse the stomach, regulate the bowels, and impart a tone of vigor to the whole body.

VEGETINE

FOR

Dyspepsia, Nervousness, AND GENERAL DEBILITY.

BERNARDSTON, MASS., 1876.

We, the undersigned, having used Vegetine, take pleasure in recommending it to all those troubled with humors of any kind, dyspepsia, nervousness, or General Debility, it being the Great Blood Purifier. Sold by R. L. Crowell & Sons, who sell more of it than all other patent medicine put together.

MRS. L. F. PERKINS.
MRS. H. W. SCOTT.
JOSEPHUS SLATE.

VEGETINE is the great health restorer—composed exclusively of barks, roots, and herbs. It is very pleasant to take; every child likes it.

VEGETINE

NERVOUS HEADACHE And Rheumatism.

CINCINNATI, O., April 9, 1877.

H. R. STEVENS, ESQ.:—

Dear Sir,—I have used your Vegetine for nervous headache, and also for rheumatism, and have found entire relief from both, and take great pleasure in recommending it to all who may be likewise afflicted.

FRED. A. GOOD,
158 Mill St., Cin.

VEGETINE has restored thousands to health who had been long and painful sufferers.

VEGETINE. DRUGGISTS' TESTIMONY

MR. H. R. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir,—We have been selling your remedy, the Vegetine, for about three years, and take pleasure in recommending it to our customers, and in no instance where a blood purifier would reach the case, has it ever failed to effect a cure, to our knowledge. It certainly is the ne plus ultra of renovators.

Respectfully,
E. M. SHEPHERD & CO., Druggists,
Mt. Vernon, Ill.

Is acknowledged by all classes of people to be the best and most reliable blood purifier in the world.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 24, 1878.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Presidential Visit to Philadelphia.

WASHINGTON, April 23.

President Hayes will be accompanied to Philadelphia by Mrs. Hayes, his two sons, Secretary Evarts and daughters, Secretary Schurz and daughters, Secretary Sherman and wife and Attorney General Devens. During this visit the Philadelphians will inaugurate a movement for the restoration to their exhibition of the amount of the Centennial loan which the Courts made them pay into the National treasury.

THE BLAIR PROJECT.

WASHINGTON, April 23.

Mr. Blair claims that his information is that Tilden desires quo warranto proceedings instituted, and on this today he urged members of the Judiciary Committee to move in the matter. Not an allusion, however, was made in the committee to the subject, and unless Tilden makes a direct request that he wishes it to be reopened, the committee say they will take no action whatever.

When the Pacific Railroad sinking-fund bill comes up in the House, the chairman is directed to move that it be referred to the Judiciary Committee.

TREASURY OPERATIONS.

Secretary Sherman, in conversation today, said that he was confident of the success of his financial plans, and hoped the House would not obstruct success by interposing unfriendly legislation. There is a disposition on the part of the greenback men to prevent resumption unless they have their own way.

THE SINKING FUND AND TARIFF.

The Senate Finance Committee today informally considered the wisdom of suspending the operations of the sinking fund. The sentiment of the committee is favorable, as revenues are falling off and no prospects of a surplus. Final action will be suspended till the tariff and revenue bills are disposed off by the House. An effort is made to fix the time calling up the substitute for repeal, but owing to the absence of several senators wishing to speak it will be delayed till next week.

HARBOR AND RIVER FRAUDS IN THE HOUSE.

The entire day was spent upon Cox's protest against the river and harbor bill, and abundant reasons were given why the bill ought not to have been crowded through without debate. A Kentucky member stated that two of the rivers in his state for which appropriations were made could only be improved by opening them as turnpikes. A Pennsylvania member said some of the so-called rivers in his State would not float a saw log at high water, and that several others would scarcely turn grist mills. One river in Minnesota has had $10,000 for a series of years. Only one boat runs on it once or twice a year, and the appropriation has been regularly spent by a politician, who has had contracts for its improvement, by going along the river bed when the river is frozen, and pulling out stumps and leaving them on the ice to fall in again, for the next year's operations, whenever the so-called river opened. It was one of the most disorderly debates had in the House of late years, and in some respects one of the most amusing. But after the whole day of wrangling, it was finally decided that such a protest as Cox offered was not in order and could not go on the journal.

THE CONSUL GENERAL TO MEXICO.

The Senate today reconsidered its hasty action in rejecting Colburn, of the New York Times, Consul General to Mexico, and confirmed him by a handsome vote.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD EXTENSION, AS PASSED BY THE SENATE.

The bill extending the charter of the Northern Pacific Railroad for ten years passed the Senate with a number of amendments today, but such as were acceptable to the Company. The road is to be constructed eastward from the Columbia river, twenty-five miles the first year, and forty miles each year thereafter, and seventy-five miles westward the first year, and sixty miles annually thereafter, till completed. Various provisions were inserted to prevent the line from being a monopoly by shutting out competing lines from passes, Cascade mountains, and portages around falls of Columbia.

FALL RIVER.

HATHAWAY REFUSES TO GIVE INFORMATION.

FALL RIVER, Mass., April 23.

H. K. Braley, counsel for the corporation, together with C. W. Greene, a director, visited Mr. Hathaway at his house at seven o'clock this morning, to receive from him a further statement of the affairs of the Border City and Sagamore mills, as previously reported he would make. Hathaway stated that under advice of his counsel, A. G. Somerby, he should not make any statement or say anything whatever in reference to the irregular paper; that at some future time perhaps he would tell them as to its whereabouts.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors this morning, Hathaway resigned the treasurership in both the Sagamore and Border City mills. Jos. W. Wadleigh was elected clerk and treasurer pro tempore of the Sagamore. The books of the Boarder City Mills have been gone through with by Mr. Wadleigh, an expert of New York. After a careful though hasty examination of them he is unable to lay before the directors any statement that is at all definite.

After a further examination of the books has been made, a definite report will be given to the directors, who will call a meeting of the stockholders at once. The directors voted to adjourn till Friday of this week. It was deemed advisable by both council and directors to pay no debts, either of operatives or others, at present. Under the bankrupt law of the United States, as well as the State law, the help will all receive their pay in full. Everything will be done by both companies that is possible to do for the benefit of their creditors.

THE EASTERN SITUATION.

Rioting in Russian Towns.

NEW YORK, April 23.

London telegrams report the political situation as rather more pacific, Bismarck's proposals for withdrawing the forces having been substantially accepted, but there are many intricate details yet to be settled.

The revolutionary excitement throughout Russia is very great, and there has been considerable rioting in large towns.

The Roumanian circular protesting against Russian occupation is bitterly emphatic.

LATEST FROM FALL RIVER.

HATHAWAY ARRESTED AND IN JAIL.

Wild Rumors About Town.

A VISIT TO MRS. HATHAWAY.

During the day a good many rumors have prevailed on the streets, but none, though implicating prominent parties in the Border City Mills, could be traced to any authentic source. As evening approached, the excitement increased, specially caused by the

ARREST OF HATHAWAY,

his arraignment before Judge Blaisdell and his committal to Taunton jail. The Border City Mill Directors, at their meeting held this morning, had

DECIDED UPON AN ARREST,

but felt anxious to postpone it till the last moment, but City Marshal Brigham and the fears of Hathaway himself of a popular outbreak hurried the event. Brigham hastened the affair to prevent what he considered impending trouble, and Hathaway was happy to be forwarded where would not fall upon his shoulders in any outburst that might take expression in broken windows, damaged property, with the presence of a hooting yelling mob. He was quietly

POPULAR INDIGNATION

ESCORTED TO THE STATION HOUSE

at 4 o'clock this afternoon by Marshal Brigham and soon after appeared before Judge Blaisdell, one of the gentlemen whom he bankrupted. The charge was

THE DEFALCATION OF $100,000

from the Border City Mills, and after waiving an examination, he was called on for $100,000 bonds, and in default was ordered to be committed to the Taunton Jail till the June term of the Superior Court. The prisoner was then conducted to the Marshal's office, and there remained for half an hour, where he was met by several friends. He was then conveyed to a team, and, accompanied by Officer McMahon and his brother, James E. Hathaway, started by highway for

THE PRISON AT TAUNTON.

Quite a crowd had collected and many violent expressions were heard on all sides. The charge was to be sustained by Chester W. Greene, David T. Wilcox and C. P. Stickney but their evidence was not needed, and in fact none but Stickney was in attendance.

The arrest created a wild excitement when known, as it was not anticipated. From the reports circulating as the evening advanced other crowded the streets, but no one would substantiate or be authority for their truthfulness. Other men were denounced as participators in the Border City or "ring" frauds, and a number of men, heretofore of high standing, were called into the circle. Still, nothing could be gleaned.

GEORGE T. HATHAWAY.

Next to S. Angier Chace this gentleman is just now the most notorious man in this section of New England. The following sketch will be of interest, it is from the correspondent of the Boston Herald:

George T. Hathaway is a native of Assonet, and came to Fall River some twenty years ago, as one expressed it, a "green country boy." He accepted a position as clerk in the Massasoit Flour Company of Chace, Nason and Durfee, securing the position through Mr. Chace, his cousin. Through his general position, he made many friends in the city and retained his friends in Assonet by nearly every year manifesting much interest in the church fair in that place, and was instrumental in enlarging the building and procuring an organ for the same. About eight years ago he began to invest in real estate, and being rather venturesome he bought heavily and realized large advances, and he holds to this day considerable real estate. In 1872 the Border City Mills were started, mainly through his exertions. Many a young man envied the prosperity of Mr. Hathaway. He was appointed treasurer of the mill, and its affairs were apparently managed very successfully, although he was not a practical manufacturer. Afterwards Mill No. 2 was built, and the Border City Mills were pointed out with pride as being very valuable property, under the charge of the smartest young man in Fall River. So popular had he become, and so highly was he held by the Board of Trade, that they selected him to go to Europe and ascertain what could be done towards exporting goods. Last November Mill No. 1 was burned and against the wishes of the business men of the city arrangements were made to rebuild it, and so about a month ago work was commenced. Adjoining the Border City property is the Sagamore property, and when two years ago, through mismanagement, the stock almost sank to nothing, a demand was made for Hathaway to be treasurer, such was the confidence in his ability, and he was chosen. About a month ago the Sagamore No. 2 was started, much to the surprise of many who could not see why such a seemingly rash venture should be undertaken. Work has stopped on the new mills. It has been said for a long time that Hathaway speculated in cloth, and that he bought many thousand pieces at a high figure which fell on his hands. Mr. Hathaway is married to a daughter of Mr. Iram Smith, and they live in a beautiful residence "on the hill." It is said that Mr. Hathaway has lost everything.

FALLING IN LOVE.

It is often quite impossible for the most intimate friend and closest observer to specify all the influences which have combined to bring about this state of mind in any given instance. Yet this does not hinder us from supposing that the process is always at bottom a perfectly natural one. One circumstance of the case which seems to be commonly overlooked is the special predisposition to the amatory sentiment which shows itself in certain stages of development and in certain transient moods. It is not too much to say, perhaps, that most people fall in love at a given time because of special conditions of the moment. If A had not presented himself or herself as an object for the impulse, B or C would probably have sufficed. This way of looking at the matter will no doubt appear shocking to the romantic mind, yet the idea seems to have a firm substratum of fact.

It would be interesting to know what part the process of falling in love is destined to play in the future history of mankind. A review of the past development of the custom, from primitive times to our own enlightened age, suggests the reflection that it has tended to become a slower and more conscious operation. It is not many people who now tumble suddenly and recklessly into this condition of mind. Culture seems to have the effect of transforming the process of falling into one of sliding. To refer again to a somewhat analygous mental experience, culture seems to make less frequent both sudden forms of falling in love and sudden conversions. And this change is plainly due in a large measure to a growth of volitional force. All falling in love is of course, the direct effect of an involuntary and emotional impulse; yet a negative act of will may perhaps be said to be involved in the non-repression of this impulse. As people advance in intellect and character, the ascendancy of the will increases, and the amatory sentiment is only allowed to attach itself to an object very slowly and after the fullest critical investigation. It is not necessary to adopt the ultra-prosaic supposition that sexual selection will ever become a purely voluntary action. It is commonly said that more and more persons now marry for definite objects, such as wealth, social position or domestic adornments; yet the normal mode of selection is still held to include the play of an instinctive emotion as well. What the higher culture seems to do, over and above strengthening the controlling power of will, is to make this emotion more reflective and self-conscious. People learn to understand more clearly their own feelings and tastes, and to know better beforehand what kind of object is likely to satisfy them. The emotional impulse now shows itself as a conscious wish to possess an object of a certain definite character. Still the actual conception of a strong affection is a process that goes outside the will, though the will may be said to approve of it in a new sense when its result is recognized as agreeing with a pre-existing wish and desire. We hardly think, then, that there is ground for the cynical prediction that falling in love is rapidly becoming an obsolete custom. The experience will probably grow much less violent and catastrophic in its character by being brought into closer relation to the intellectual and volitional part of the mind. And the same influences which bring about this effect will no doubt tend to tone down people's rapturous faith in the occult and transcendent nature of the process.

FLEXIBLE RUDDERS.

AQUATIC EDITOR TURF, FIELD AND FARM.—I see by your issue of April 5th 1878, that some one in England has invented a flexible rudder that has not yet been tried, but it is supposed that it will be a great improvement, etc. I write this to inform you that the yacht Lotty, of Newport, R. I., was built in the Spring of '71, and has a flexible rudder invented by me, which extends the lines of the boat to the end of the rudder. It is formed of a sheet of spring brass in the centre, and is built out on each side with wood to conform to the shape of the boat; it works to perfection, and is a complete success. The Lotty has never been beaten in a regular time allowance race. The Titania, owned also by me, and built at Newport, R. I., has a flexible rudder, and she is also a great success, having entered seven races and taken the prizes in six of them. Both of these yachts have my peculiar rig on them; that is, the bowsprit is attached to the boom instead of to the boat, which I consider as great an improvement as the flexible rudder. The Lotty is at present at Jacksonville, Fla., and the Titania is at Newport, R. I., both belong to the Newport Yacht Club. I shall be pleased to show them to any one taking an interest in naval architecture. Yours, &c.,

S. F. PRATT.

Jacksonville, Fla., April 8, 1878.

Mrs. Hayes is having the cottage at Soldier's Home which she occupied last summer prepared for her, and she proposes to reside there as soon as Lent is over, and warm weather brightens up the grounds with flower and foliage. The administration will, of course, accompany her, providing civil service reform will permit Mr. Hayes to leave the White House to make such change as is involved in a daily trip to and from the country. Mrs. Hayes evidently thinks a man is a pretty good thing in the family and, therefore, clings closely to Rutherford.

A curious old Carolina law has recently been discovered. It was passed on January 1, 1761, and is entitled "An act for destroying crows, blackbirds, and squirrels in the County of Hyde," and recites the damage yearly done to growing corn and mast, and enacts that all masters, mistresses and overseers shall cause to be killed or kill every year two crows, 50 blackbirds, and five squirrels for each taxable inlisted. The penalty for not obeying the law was a forfeiture of 2 shillings for the crows, 2 shillings for the blackbirds, and 1 shilling for squirrels. The parties killing the pests received a certificate to that effect from a Justice of the Peace. The Sheriff demanded these certificates in collecting his taxes, and upon failure to produce them levied on the goods and chattels of the persons, sale following upon an advertisement of five days.

TEN YEARS EXPERIENCE
—IN THE—
ROSS SYSTEM OF CULTIVATION.

With the Ross Implements, has never failed to produce astonishing results in the cultivation of all Hoed crops, when rightly understood and directions strictly followed, either flat or hill culture, by which the crops are greatly increased, weeds thoroughly exterminated, saving all the hand labor of planting and hoeing, doing the work much better, producing larger crops in wet seasons, and carries them through a dry one three or four times as long as hand culture, which adds greatly to the crop maturing and lessens the expense of production materially. The most thorough pulverizer in use for mixing soil, manures and fertilizers together, for putting in wheat, oats or rye broadcast, and increasing the crops of grain, also grass for several years, by giving such pulverizing qualities and thorough mixture of soil and fertilizers. Equally good for corn, potatoes, tobacco and root crops, peas and beans, on all soils, whether sand, loam or clay. A stiff clay sod made as old land by using the cultivator before planting, at half the expense of the common harrow. The expense of planting and hoeing an acre through the season varies from $1.50 to $1.55, according to speed of horse, man to operate, and land to work on.

C. H. Hayes, of Portsmouth, N. H., writes me that he hoed 20 acres of corn and potatoes in 1877, at the expense of $1.03 per acre, and better than men could do it with hand hoes. George H. Grace, of Ulysses, Butler County, Nebraska, writes me his corn was full 15 bushels of shelled corn more per acre where he used my machines and followed my system, than where he did not, no manure or fertilizers being used.

Rev. Dr. I. T. Tichenor, President of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, Auburn, Ala., after using, bought 8 machines, and writes us that "the Horse Cultivator and Hoe will revolutionize the cultivation of cotton in the whole cotton growing section." "Book me for another pair of your Horse Hoes next spring. My superintendent says he cannot get along without them."

D. P. Storrs, of Montgomery, Ala., writes, "There is nothing equals them for corn and cotton."

J. W. Sanborn, Superintendent of Agricultural College farm, at Hanover, N. H., after using one season, writes, "They are all that can be desired for hoeing corn and potatoes."

A. Town, Jonesville, Vt., after using a full set 8 years, writes that "They pay for themselves every year. Could not do without the Ross system and implements."

A. J. Brown, of Vernon, Vt., has eight acres of corn estimated to yield 75 bushels per acre. Planted and hoed through the season after the Ross system, for $6.87; indispensable with me."

Lorenzo Lord and F. A. Brown of Vernon, Vt., have planted and hoed about 50 acres of corn the past season, after the Ross system and implements, without the use of the hand hoe. Having used them 5 or 6 years each, we find nothing equals them for saving labor and doing the work.

L. H. Ross, of South Deerfield, Mass., planted 30 acres of corn, and hoed it three time, at an expense of 20 days work for man, at $13 per month, and 15 days work for horse with the Ross Implements. No hand hoeing.

Benjamin P. Ware, of Marblehead, President of the Essex Co. Agricultural Society, writes in his report for 1877, that he planted his corn with the Ross & Co.'s planters, and cultivated wholly with his cultivators, without any hand labor. And this System left the crop clean of weeds and reduced the cost of cultivation very materially.

W. H. Flint, of Monson, Mass., writes in his report to the Scientific Farmer of his experiments of manures and fertilizers in 1877, that the work of planting and hoeing both corn and potatoes, was done after the Ross system and implements, without the use of the Hand hoe, only at the end of the rows, which left the crops clean of weeds.

E. C. Emmons, of Taftsville, Vt., writes his experiments in raising corn by hand labor, and also after the Ross system in 1877. The rows were 35 rods long, all manured, except the last 8 rows, was fertilized in the hill when planted. No. 1. 8 rows were planted and hoed through the season with hand hoes; took six hours to plant them. Produced 22¾ baskets of ears. No. 2. 8 rows were planted and hoed after the Ross system, took man and horse 20 minutes to plant them, and hoed equally as quick with the Ross implements, and produced 35 baskets of ears. No. 3. 8 rows were planted and hoed after the Ross system, and fertilized in the drill; took the same time to plant and hoe them that it did No. 2, and produced 43¾ baskets of ears.

By the above experiment, it is plain to be seen the amount of labor which can be saved and the increase of crop to be gained, by the Ross system of cultivation, over the old method of digging with hand hoes, and producing aching backs, and my crops were free from weeds.

Send 25 cents for the Ross system of cultivation.

☞ We do not claim any fertilizing qualities in our machines, but do claim that the highest state of cultivation produces the largest crops, and that the Ross system and implements, strictly followed, produces the highest state of cultivation known. All machines warranted, and representations guaranteed if the system is strictly followed. Agents wanted who are practical farmers—NO OTHERS.

The Journal is a large, 32 column paper, and contains a large amount of reading matter that is valuable to readers in town or country who desire a good Newport paper, but who do not take a daily from this city.

Complaints regarding the irregular or improper delivery of either paper should be sent to the office at once.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 24, 1878.

THE DAY.

Both Chace and Hathaway, the Fall River thieves, refuse to tell what they have done with the stolen money.

There is no change reported in the Eastern situation. The prospects of peace are steadily improved by the delay.

Justin E. Colburn, the new Consul General to Mexico, has property at Conanicut Park where his family spends a portion of their summers.

Congress is inclined to withdraw the silver twenty cent pieces from circulation. The man that invented them should have been sent to a lunatic asylum.

Serious charges of fraud are made against parties interested in the Harbor and River Improvement bill. They are very likely correct as every bill of this kind is itself a fraud. Where the foundation is corrupt the stream is not likely to be pure.

Mr. John D. Flint, who is well known in this city, is not a director in either of the bankrupt mills of Fall River. He retired from office and sold out his stock when they determined to build the new mill, a movement of which he disapproved.

The New York Express, one of the oldest and most intense democratic sheets in the country, now pronounces Samuel J. Tilden wholly unfit for the office of the Presidency, and speaks freely of "his tortuous indirect methods, his utter want of decision, his helplessness in emergencies, and his ingratitude to his political supporters."

As will be seen by reference to the appointments the Rev. E. M. Smith is returned to the pastorate of the First Methodist Episcopal Church in this city for another Conference year. Rev. O. H. Fernald is placed in charge of the Thames street Church and that parish has occasion to be congratulated on the selection. Mr. Fernald is an excellent preacher, a good scholar and a thorough gentleman. His ministry at Taunton and other places has been eminently successful and we shall anticipate a prosperous pastorate for him in his new field. The Rev. Mr. Harlow was placed on the list of superannuates, and it is understood will go west where he has formerly resided.

The Fall River excitement is on the increase. Wild rumors are afloat concerning other mills and other men, but no new developments are made. Mr. Hathaway has gone to join Chace in the Taunton jail. A director says that Chace has accounted for every dollar that he surreptitiously extracted. The overseers of the Sagamore mill attached all the personal property of the Sagamore mills. The Directors of the Border City Mills were separately interviewed, but all declined making any statements, one way or the other. The Board has adjourned till Friday at 11 A. M. Wadleigh, the expert on the books and head book-keeper for Castner, Stickney & Wellington, of New York, coal dealers, has began his investigations from the opening of the first book, and can as yet see his way but dimly. The defalcation is now placed at $650,000—Border City Mills $300,000, and Sagamore $350,000, with a greatly possible increase. The fact of the fraudulent issue is established firmly by the receipt yesterday of a note of which no record had been made or could be found. Every new development shows Hathaway a greater villain than Chace, and that the latter is not so heavily responsible for his dereliction as Hathaway would have the public believe.

THE SPECIAL SESSION.

A well-known correspondent of the Newport News contributes to the columns of that newspaper the following remarkable suggestion:—

> The Providence Journal, the business men of Providence and others are talking about the special session of the General Assembly to pass a State bankrupt law. Can the General Assembly pass any such law while the United States bankrupt act is in operation? Does not the grant of the power in the federal constitution, to the United States, to establish a uniform system of bankruptcy, when that power is exercised, operate as an exclusive grant, and as a denial of the right to exercise any such power by the states?

We are afraid our friend is not strictly ingenuous in this matter. He knows very well that State insolvent laws are constantly resorted to in cases where parties do not choose to invoke the processes of the national bankrupt act, and that the existence of the national law interposes no barrier to any modification of our statutes not inconsistent with the United States statute. He knows very well, for instance, that the existence of a national bankrupt law does not in any degree impair the right of the General Assembly to pass a law next Friday providing that all assignments with preferences shall be void, and that all attachments shall be for the equal benefit of all the creditors. A law in some simple phrase that will accomplish these results will serve the purpose of the business men of the State who have asked the Governor to convene the General Assembly. The reasons that make this change in our State laws desirable are very plain. The basis of mercantile credit has been greatly changed since the enactment of the national bankrupt law which gave the creditor assurance that the property of the debtor, in case of bankruptcy, could be held to be applied to the equal benefit of all the creditors. Now, with insufficient notice, the national law is about to be repealed, and the debtor who received credit under it will be held only to the provisions of the State law, which permits him, should he be so inclined, to make an assignment and provide that all his property shall be devoted to the liquidation of a preferred claim of his mother-in-law, or some other friend of the family. Now this contingency was not contemplated when the man received credit. His character will therefore be subjected to new scrutiny by the creditor, and if he is a man who would be likely to take advantage of the iniquitous power of making preferences among his creditors, he will be pretty sure to be compelled to shut up shop by attachments, before he can have time to make an assignment, after the national bankrupt law goes out of existence. To avoid the embarrassments and iniquities of this kind of snap and grab game, which is inevitable as the law now stands, the Journal has joined with the business men, who appreciate the situation, in urging that the General Assembly apply a present remedy, whether a general revision of the insolvent laws be made now or not. And for ourselves, we may say, that repeatedly during the late session of the Legislature did we call attention to the imminent need of some such legislation as the General Assembly is now called in special session to consider.—[Prov. Journal.

SEVEN.

Seven fresh acorns on the lea,
Browned by summer's fiery glow,
Newly fallen from the tree,
Fit to plant, and apt to grow;
But six of seven shall rot and die,
And never flourish to the sky,
Or feel the breezes as they blow.
Choose the six—select the one—
Fool! you cannot! Fate must run!

Seven sharp daggers, newly made,
Each the other's counterpart.
Each the same in sheath and blade,
Point and edge and workman's art;
Yet by Destiny's command,
One shall fill a murderer's hand,
And stab a true man to the heart!
Choose the one—reject the rest—
Fool! you cannot! Fate knows best!

Seven young ladies at the ball,
Radiant as the new May morn,
Blithe and joyous, one and all,
With lips of love and eye of scorn;
Yet four of seven, when wedded wives,
Shall make their husbands curse their lives,
And rue the hour that they were born.
Show the four—select the three—
Fool! you may not! Live and see!

The Exodus of Negroes back to Africa which has actually begun at Charleston with such force that the number of those wanting to go exceeds the ship-room for them, is another pathetic chapter in the history of the black race. Hard as their lot has been here—and freedom has been but little kinder to them than slavery, for the professional philanthropists robbed them of their first hard-won earnings in the swindling Freedmen's Savings Bank and the politicians have used them to make outrages of for political—it is impossible that it should be any better in Africa. The sentiment that that dark and unredeemed continent, where the "missing links" between man and beast still linger, is their fatherland, and that there the black man will have an equal chance, will not supply them work, nor mules, nor markets. It is more than likely that these poor emigrants will add to the burdens of the present negro settlements rather than build them up. But the negroes are a sentimental race, and would not listen to the dissuasions of such real friends as Bishop Gilbert Haven, who knows the whole ground from personal knowledge. So back they go from civilization to savagery, and by the middle passage.—[Boston Transcript.

THE FAILURE OF THE DUMMY CARS.—The dummy steam cars which have been tried nearly a year past on one of the leading lines in Philadelphia have been finally given up. They proved too heavy for the tracks, weighing 7½ or 8 tons, and when laden reaching nearly 10 tons, while the ordinary passenger cars weigh, when packed, about 5½ tons. Their jar and oscillation, especially at starting, shook the tracks so as to disjoint the sleepers and bolts, necessitating constant repairs, beside wearing out the track at all points faster than the horse cars. It is thought that possibly a "T" or some other heavier rail might answer. Another objection was found to be the disagreeable odor coming from the oil and escaping steam. There is still a difference of opinion among road officers as to the cost of running the dummies, but the above objections were regarded as decisive.

The late Jacob Little, regarded in his day as one of the most shrewd and perspicacious operators in Wall street, had no faith in the telegraph when it was first introduced. In 1846 somebody asked him to subscribe for some stock for putting a line between New York and Boston, but he replied that it was all nonsense; that it would be money thrown away, and that he would not advance a dollar. He afterwards admitted that this decision was the greatest mistake of his life.

An Edinburg lady sang "God Save the Queen" to a phonograph in New York recently and the tinfoil was sent to England, where it reproduced the tune, even to a false note which the singer had given.

Mr. Fernando Wood reckons on a majority of twenty-five in favor of his tariff in the House. But it is as unsafe to count votes before they are cast as chickens before they are hatched.

The Grand Hotel, Cincinnati, is the first hotel into which a telephone has been introduced.

General Grant's cottage at Long Branch has been leased at $3,000 for the summer season.

—At Carl's new hall Monday evening, seven different languages were spoken in one party.

—Mr. John R. Ford of New York, who owns a summer residence at this place, is in town for a few days.

—It is said that no paper belonging to the Border City or Sagamore mills of Fall River is held here. Lucky!

—A new lock has been placed upon the corridor door at the police station and twenty one keys have been made to fit it.

—The wages of the Old Colony Steamboat Company employes at the repair shops have been reduced from ten to fifteen per cent.

—Rev. Mr. Schermerhorn, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., will supply the Unitarian Church pulpit for the four Sundays during May ensuing.

—Mr. Frank B. Porter has rented Mr. Albert G. Thorp's villa, Wellington avenue on the bay, to Judge James Emott of New York.

—Tomorrow, being the feast of St. Mark, there will be a celebration of the Holy Communion in Kay Chapel at eleven o'clock A. M.

—The annual election of the Newport Artillery occurs next week; so does the election of the Newport Artillery Veteran Association.

—The steamers Bristol and Providence have about all the business they can accommodate, and nearly every state room is occupied nightly.

—Messrs. Caswell, Massey & Co., will open a branch store at 518 Fifth avenue, corner of Forty-seventh street, opposite the Windsor Hotel, New York, in a few weeks.

—Judge Clarke of Canada, who spent the season here last year, sails today in the Russia for Europe. It is the judge's intention to return here at the opening of the season.

—An indication of hard times was witnessed on one of our principal streets yesterday, when an aged and respectable lady was seen with pot and brush, painting the front of the building in which she resides.

—Ex-Governor Thomas Swann, of Maryland, one of our prominent summer residents, has had recorded a deed of trust from himself to himself in which he makes an ante mortem disposition of his property.

—We are informed by authority that, although a charge was preferred against W. F. Williamson, he is not accused of taking any part in the riotous proceedings of last week and that he condemns all such conduct.

—Mr. Ford reports the sale of 2005 square feet of the Atlantic House estate, so-called, to W. H. Flagg of New York, on private terms. A partition deed of this entire estate between R. R. Hazard, Jr., and S. B. Stitt and wife has recently been recorded.

—A meeting of the Rhode Island Lodge of Odd Fellows, Monday night, voted to proceed to build the new hall immediately. Charles R. Burdick is the contractor for $11,000. The building committee are Ernest Goffe, James Openshaw, Henry T. Easton, Wm. E. Crandall and John H. Crosby, Jr.

—There are tickets for five candidates for alderman in the Third Ward. We understand that Mr. Crosby does not authorize the use of his name but the other tickets will be sufficient, probably, to defeat an election. We hear of none but Messrs. Kaull and Goffe in the First Ward.

—It would seem that the engine house, of at least one of our steamers, should be provided with horses so that in the night time especially, the engine could be got to a fire several minutes sooner than it is possible to do with men. The extra expense would be slight compared with the probable loss of property that could be saved.

—Miss Laura Newton Pratt, daughter of Collector Pratt of this city, was married at the residence of the Collector last evening to Mr. Charles Snow of New Haven. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. H. Kettell, Miss Minnie V. Snow of Phenix acting as bridesmaid and Mr. Fred. Snow as groomsman. A pleasant reception was given after the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Snow took the evening boat for New York en route for Washington, where they will spend a few days. The wedding gifts were numerous and in good taste.

—John McMahon, residing on Burnside court, accompanied by his little girl about five years of age, called at the police station last evening and lodged a serious complaint against his neighbor, Daniel Cochrane, who it is alleged had induced his (Cochrane's) children to beat daughter of complainant. The girl's forehead was terribly cut and there was a large bunch on the back of her head.

—Dr. Silas B. Fairchild, a well-known Presbyterian clergyman, died yesterday at his residence in Morristown, N. J. For many years he was secretary of the American and Foreign Christian Union, and lived in Newark. Dr. Fairchild had accumulated considerable property. He spent his summers at this place and was well-known to many of our citizens. For some years he has been unable to do any active work.

—Dr. J. Campbell U. S. A., stationed at Fort Adams, is about to remove with his family to Atlanta, Ga. Dr. Campbell has been here for several years and has made a host of friends who will regret to hear of his contemplated removal. He is to be succeeded at Fort Adams by Lt. Col. John F. Hammond, surgeon, U. S. A., who is a brother of ex-Gov. Hammond of South Carolina. On the breaking out of the rebellion there was a strong pressure brought to bear on Surgeon Hammond to join the confederacy but he remained true to the government. He is quite recently from duty in Texas.

THE COMING CONCERT.—The concert by the Choral Society will take place at the Opera House on Thursday evening, one week from tomorrow night. The program now in rehearsal is fully up to the high musical standard of those formerly brought out by the society and the present has, perhaps, a more pleasing variety than any which have preceded it. The Newport Choral Society has become an established institution of the city and these concerts form a pleasing as well as a necessary feature of its exsitence.

TOO MUCH DECORATION.

Ladies who live in the country are particularly liable to "overdo" their decoration. They get many a hint of beautiful objects that can be made with little trouble, from magazines and papers, and they must needs try their skill in constructing the pretty knickknacks. Sometimes a beautiful ornament is thus made; but many times the lack of the needful materials, so easily procured in the city, but so difficult to find in the country, will cause a poor imitation of what was designed to be a "thing of beauty." We might cite many examples of this enthusiastic pursuit of various kinds of fancy work—worsted work, for instance. We shudder to think of the time spent—wasted,—the eyes ruined, over ugly pieces of embroidery,—ottomans, pillows, slippers, etc. Just now the mania is for painting upon pottery. With able instruction this enthusiasm might be turned into good channels. But what shall be said of that invention of some mediocre mind the pasting upon ginger jars of cheap and tawdry pictures? When we see our shelves and tables covered with these vases, match safes, cigar holders, etc., and know that, from regard to the feelings of the young artists, these must be placed in a conspicuous position and favorable light, we are in danger of wishing that all pottery could be buried so deep in the ground that even the indefatigable Schliemann could not unearth it. A parlor ought not to be littered with such trifles. Better a few good and not costly pictures, such as engravings, or Braun's autotypes of celebrated paintings, in inexpensive frames; ornaments sparingly used, but beautiful in themselves and from association; a very few thrifty plants, not too delicate, but those that will give plenty of flowers and will not require all the sunshine; best of all, good books in plain cases. Leave space for the new volume and the magazine upon the table, and for the bright lamp; space upon the floor for the children's toys, and for themselves to frolic; and let not even the honest dog or the gentle cat be banished lest they break or mar some frail peice of fancy work. So shall we be kept from worry or care of too many treasures, and find time for reading, for study, for play with the little ones, and perhaps for practising at times the almost lost art of plain sewing.—["Home and Society;" Scribner for May.

Mr. E. A. Buck, editor of the Spirit of the Times, recently had stolen from his desk a choice clock, whereupon he wrote to Mr. Sothern, with the hint that a new one would be accepted if offered. Thereupon the latter boxed and shipped to him the property clock used in the first scene of "The Crushed Tragedian," which is an imposing affair, 10 feet high, but only a shell of painted canvass on a wooden frame. Accompanying the gift was a letter, assuring the recipient that, though perhaps a little large for a desk ornament, the clock was absolutely reliable and was warranted "not to vary a second in ten years."

Ladies who attend Queen Victoria's receptions must dress according to rule or else be subjected to mortifying discipline. A young lady who attended the last reception was horrified at being approached by one of the functionaries, who informed her that her hair was coming down. She explained that it was not coming down at all, but that a coiffeur had expressly dressed it in that manner. "Put it up," was the order, and she was compelled to do so.

The troop of elephants belonging to Robinson's circus became excited while crossing the South Anna River in Virginia. One of the animals was thrown over the bridge by another, and would have been drowned but for the assistance of the old elephant Mary, the circus workmen and several citizens. The fight became general, and several elephants engaged in it, but no persons were hurt.

A comparison recently made between two Atlantic steamers, one made in 1840 and one of today's, shows that the modern steamship carries fifteen times as much freight as the old one did, at nearly twice the speed. The consumption of coal per ton of cargo was, in 1840, nearly eleven times as great as at present. The reduction in price of freight and passage has been so great as the diminution of cost seems to justify.

Dotheboy's Hall, with all its horrors, stands revealed in the English law-court. A young lady, who had been engaged as a teacher in a boarding school in North Devon, found that besides twenty girls, there were thirty boys in the school. All the boys slept in one room the capacity of which was not enough for five. The young lady had to make the beds in the boys' dormitory, which was the only place they had for washing; and, as there were only four basins, half of them often went down dirty. The sheets were only changed once in one-half year, and, when measles and other illness occurred, no doctor was called in. The young teacher had to sleep in the same bed with four others, and when an infectious desease broke out they all caught it. Several pupils carried the infection to their homes. Although the household consisted of 70 persons, only one female servant was kept, and sometimes there was no servant at all.

General Banks underburdened his soul in Boston on Saturday night. And he told the literal truth when he said he knew nothing whatever about finance. But it is very strange that he declined to talk on finance for that reason. He does not usually allow such a trifling circumstance as that to shut his mouth.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

ALTERNATELY SHAKEN AND SCORCHED

By the paroxysms of chills and fever, the wretched sufferer of whom quinine has been prescribed essays in vain to exterminate the dreadful disease with that hurtful palliative, which at best only mitigates the violence of the fits, and eventually proves highly injurious to the system. In order to effect a thorough cure of malarial fever, whether intermittent or remittent, or to render the system impregnable to its attacks, Hostetters Stomach Bitters should be used daily. That this medicine is a searching eradicant of diseases generated by miasma, and a reliable safeguard against them, is a fact so widely recognized in this and other countries that to adduce evidence in support of it is unnecessary; but were either essential or desirable to do so, it may well be supposed that from the testimony corroborative of its claims; which has been accumulating during the last twenty-five years and other sufficient proofs might be gathered to convince the most inveterate skeptic.

A GENTLE HINT.

In our style of climate, with its sudden changes of temperature,—rain wind and sunshine often intermingled in a single day,—it is no wonder that our children, friends and relatives are so frequently taken from us by neglected colds, half the deaths resulting directly from this cause. A bottle of Boschee's German Syrup kept about your home for immediate use will prevent serious sickness, a large doctor's bill, and perhaps death, by the use of three or four doses. For curing consumption, hemorrhages, pneumonia, severe coughs, croup or any disease of the throat or lungs, its success is simply wonderful, as your druggist will tell you. German Syrup is now sold in every town and village on this continent. Sample bottles for trial, 10c.; regular size 75c. For sale by J. H. Taylor, Newport.

NOTICE!

THE INDULGENCE hitherto allowed to the custom of kindling fires in the public streets of the city, on pretended occasions of rejoicing, having been in several instances disgracefully abused, resulting recently in danger to the lives and property of our citizens, as well as in grave offence to the public peace and the interests of social order, it has become my duty to take such steps as will tend hereafter to relieve the community from all apprehension caused by toleration of a dangerous practice.

Therefore the ordinance relative to the making of bonfires within the city's limits (no matter upon what pretext such fires are made) will be, for the future, rightly enforced, and the City Marshal, Captain of Police, and each and every member of the police force, are hereby instructed to see that the provisions of said ordinance are strictly carried out, and to arrest and commit for trial any person or persons detected in the act of violating the law.

CHAPTER 680.

AN ACT to establish a State Board of Health.

(Passed April 12, 1878.)

It is enacted by the General Assembly as follows:

SECTION 1. The Governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate, shall appoint six persons, two from the county of Providence and one from each of the other counties, who shall constitute the State Board of Health. Of the persons so appointed, at least three shall be well educated physicians and members of some medical society incorporated by this State. The Governor may remove any member for cause, at any time, upon the written request of two-thirds of the Board.

SEC. 2. The six persons first appointed shall be appointed for one, two, three, four, five and six years respectively, and hereafter, the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate, shall appoint one member of the Board annually for the term of six years from the first day of July. Any appointment to fill a vacancy shall be for the remainder of the term.

SEC. 3. The Board shall take cognizance of the interests of life and health among the citizens of the State: they shall make investigations into the causes of disease, and especially of epidemics and endemics among the people, the sources of mortality and the effects of localities, employments, conditions and circumstances on the public health, and shall faithfully do all in their power to ascertain the causes and the best means for the prevention of diseases of every kind in the State. They shall publish and circulate, from time to time, such information as they may deem to be important and useful for diffusion among the people of the State, and shall investigate and give advice in relation to such subjects relating to the public health, as may be referred to them by the General Assembly, or by the Governor when the General Assembly is not in session.

SEC. 9. The Board shall meet in the city of Providence once in three months, and as much oftener as they may deem necessary. No member of the Board, except the Secretary, shall receive any compensation for his services; but the actual personal expenses of any member, while engaged in the duties of the Board, shall be paid by the State.

SEC. 10. The Board shall elect a well qualified physician as their secretary.

SEC. 11. The secretary shall perform and superintend the work prescribed in this law, and such other duties as the Board may require, and he shall receive such salary, not in excess of twelve hundred dollars per annum, as the Board may determine. He shall hold his office at the pleasure of the Board, but may be removed at any regular meeting by a majority vote of the members thereof.

SEC. 12. The Governor shall provide a suitable office for the Board, in the city of Providence, and the actual expenses of the Board and of the members thereof, when certified by the Chairman and approved by the Governor, shall be paid from the Treasury of the State.

CHAPTER 681.

AN ACT in addition to Chapter 170 of the General Statutes, "Of appeals from Courts of Probate."

(Passed April 12, 1878.)

It is enacted by the General Assembly as follows:

SECTION. 1 Section 3 of Chapter 170 of the General Statutes, is hereby amended so as to read as follows, viz.: "The person appealing from any determination or decree of a Court of Probate to the Supreme Court, the person appealing shall, within ten days after giving bond, as provided in Section 2 of the act to which this is in addition, file his reasons of appeal in the office of the clerk appealed to; and shall cause the adverse party to be served with a copy thereof, and to be cited at least ten days before the sitting of the Court appealed to, but if the party appealing shall, by accident or mistake, or because of the adverse party being without the State, fail to have such party served, the Court appealed to may, in its discretion, order notice or further notice to be given to any or all parties so adversely interested in the said appeal, which notice or further notice to such adverse party shall be given in such manner as may be prescribed by the Court."

SEC. 2. No order, judgment or decree of a Court of Probate, or Town Council, which may be appealed from, or in any collateral proceeding when the same shall have not been appealed from, shall be deemed to be invalid, or be quashed for want of proper form, or for want of jurisdiction appearing upon the face of the papers, if the Court or Council had jurisdiction of the subject matter of such order, judgment or decree, and in cases appealed from the appellate Court having jurisdiction of the parties, may allow amendments to be made in the papers filed in any such case to supply any deficiency or correct any errors therein upon such terms and conditions as the appellate Court may deem proper, and may proceed without reference to the order, judgment or decree of the Court of Probate or Town Council, to enter such judgment as the justice of the case may require.

SEC. 3. Section 1 of Chapter 475 shall not be construed to apply to appeals from Courts of Probate; but if from accident or mistake a copy of the proceedings appealed from is not filed at the time of filing the reasons of appeal, the Court may grant leave to file it subsequently, on such terms as they deem reasonable.

SEC. 4. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Secretary of State.

CATARRH

A PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.

30 Years a Physician. 12 Years a Sufferer. Tried Regular Remedies. Tried Patent Medicines. Permanently cured by

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE,

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—Sirs: I have practised medicine for thirty years, and have been a sufferer myself for twelve years with Catarrh in the nasal passages, fauces and larynx. I have used everything in the materia medica without any permanent relief, until finally I was induced to try a patent medicine (something that we allopaths are very loth to do). I tried —— and others ... until I got hold of yours. I followed the directions to the letter, and am happy to say have had a permanent cure. Your RADICAL CURE is certainly a happy combination for the cure of that most unpleasant and dangerous of diseases.

Yours, respectfully,
D. W. GRAY, M. D.,
Of Dr. D. W. Gray & Son, Physicians and Druggists, Muscatine, Iowa.
MUSCATINE, IOWA, March 27, 1877.

The value of this remedy must not be overlooked in the cure of those

SYMPATHETIC DISEASES,

Affections of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes which in many cases accompany a severe case of Catarrh. The inflamed and diseased condition of the mucous membrane is the cause of all these troubles; and until the system has been brought properly under the influence of the RADICAL CURE, perfect freedom from them cannot be reasonably expected.

It is but three years since SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was placed before the public, but in that short time it has found its way from Maine to California, and is everywhere acknowledged by druggists and physicians to be the most successful preparation for the thorough treatment of Catarrh ever compounded. The fact will be deemed of more importance when it is coupled with the statement that within five years over 250 different remedies for Catarrh have been placed on sale, and to day, with one or two exceptions, their names cannot be recalled by the best informed druggist. Advertising may succeed in forcing a few sales, but, unless the remedy possess undoubted specific medical properties, it is absolutely certain to fall into merited obscurity.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full directions for its use in all cases. Price $1.00. Sold by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.

The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrate the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
